IMPORTANT-SEE NOTES ON PAGE 10

ADVANCED DIAGNOSTICS USA

NOTES:

1.

Always read original key and check the AD900 display to make sure the transponder reads as listed here on the chart and that the chip type inside the clonable key you plan to use matches the original.

2.

Some models listed here may have two possible chip types or keyways for that year and or model, use common sense before cutting blanks to make sure your chips and keyways match up.

3.

On FORD/LINCOLN/MERCURY vehicles some models listed here may use an IKT key (built in Remote Head)

Some FORD/LINCOLN/MERCURY IKT keys CANNOT be cloned. See pic here

Some can be cloned but not all...

however if the IKT key will not clone you can program a 599114 key to the car and then clone that.

4.

SAAB, there is a long standing problem with most T5 chips not working reliably for SAAB, hopefully the chip makers will fix this issue soon. The problem is the chips not the cloner!!

5.

Some models listed here may have an option to use a PROX remote instead of a bladed key only keys can be cloned at this time, NOT PROX REMOTES!!

6.

If a model or make of car is not listed here please assume that it is not clonable at the time this chart was produced for example you wont see any Audi or VW listed in the charts because they cannot be cloned using AD900 at this time.
